

SEMINAR OBJECTIVES

As Cambodia emerges into the forefront of pan-Asia business and beyond, both Cambodian and foreign business people working together will need to acquire critical mindset and skills to help them catapult into the bright future of Global Cambodia.

This seminar will include: Five Competencies of Dialogic Leadership Process (DLP), an informative video session covering key strategies for success in multicultural business environments, as well as a sharing and learning dialogue with the facilitator and other participants.

All of you aspiring leaders of tomorrow are welcome to join this special seminar!

Learning Outcomes:

By the end of the seminar participants will understand:

- Five multicultural leadership competencies identified by DMI's global research
- Three steps to engage difficult bosses, colleagues and staff from different cultures
- The skills and strategies required for Cambodians and Foreigners to successfully work together

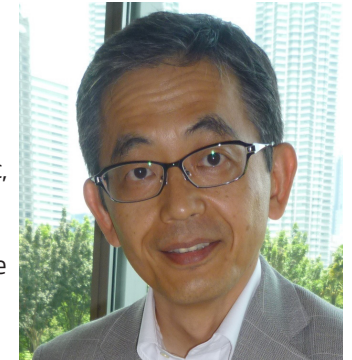

TRAINING EXPERT

Takashi Kawatani
Global Management Consultant

Japan's pioneer in global management training in Asia Pacific, Mr. Takashi Kawatani, President of Diversity Management Institute (DMI), has trained numerous managers, engineers, top management and government officers to manage people problems arising out of crosscultural conflicts and develop leadership competencies.

Since 1985, Mr. Kawatani has been working in Asia Pacific (including India, China, Korea, Japan), US and Europe. He has published 12 academic and commercial books (including chapters and an e-Learning product), maintained his own radio show in Singapore, appeared in TV shows in Malaysia and Japan and conducted research with a Malaysian think-tank (ISIS Malaysia), universities and non-profit organizations.

Formerly, Mr. Kawatani has held a diverse set of roles including: Managing Director of Diversity Strategies S/B, Inter Cultural Management S/B (Kuala Lumpur), lecturer at Sanno Institute of Management and Special Advisor at the Japan Overseas Enterprises Association.

SEMINAR DETAILS

DATE & TIME

Friday 31 May 2013 -
8.00am to 12.00pm

VENUE

The Capacity Specialists Training Centre
Top Floor, Corner Streets 63 & 294,
Sangkat Boeng Keng Kong I, Phnom Penh (Entrance on Street 294)

SUITABLE FOR

Local and foreign business persons working with supervisors, colleagues or customers from different backgrounds and cultures.

Seminar delivered in English - medium level of English is required.

SEMINAR FEE

- US$33 per person with Certificate of Attendance
- Registration is due by 29 May 2013

Seminar fee includes:

- Snack and water

To find out more about our seminars & workshops visit us at www.thecapacityspecialists.com or email us at training@thecapacityspecialists.com